Oscar-winner and filmmaker Guillermo del Toro gave an exclusive look at his latest creation, the Jangly Man, a character in the CBS Films, Entertainment One and Lionsgate thriller SCARY STORIES TO TELL IN THE DARK at Comic-Con. The film will be released in theaters everywhere Friday, August 9.

The film is an adaptation of Alvin Schwartz's books, with illustrations created by Stephen Gammell. An intimate audience viewed the trailer at Comic-Con, with a front and center preview of the Jangly Man's crooked smile and body contortions. Del Toro based the Jangly Man on a combination of Gammell's original artwork.

Del Toro's work is also being recognized today with the 2,669th star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. The visionary artist has excelled as a filmmaker, screenwriter, author, producer and special effects makeup artist.
